

STAR TREK

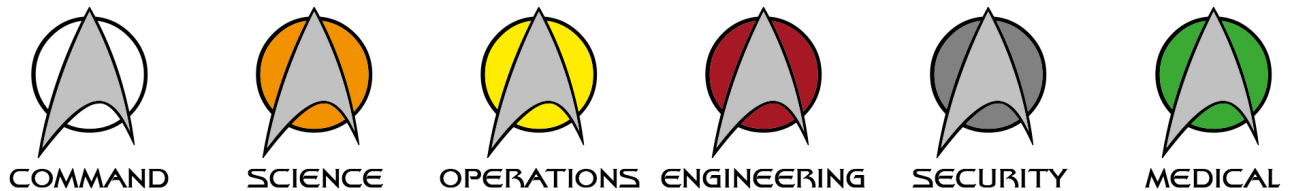

The Motion Picture

The uniforms of the first Star Trek movie are a rather strange thing. Unlike the uniforms in the TV series, they do not immediately show the track or branch of an officer, but where said person is stationed aboard their ship (see the color pattern below). The department is denoted by the color of the Starfleet insignia on the officer's chest. Usually there should be rank stripes on the sleeves of the uniforms, but I skipped those intentionally, so every miniature can be used for any rank. The only exceptions would be the Admiral on this page and most of the Command crew on page 2.

The miniatures were done by the great David Okum, the modding was done by me, Shep.
